

October 1st, 2026

Dear Valued Customer,

We are pleased to confirm that, as of October 1, 2026, Neal Systems Inc (NSI) has added the state of Ohio to their authorized representation for the Schneider Electric Measurement & Instrumentation (Foxboro) product portfolio. They now represent the line throughout New Jersey, New York, Virginia, West Virginia, Washington DC, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Contacts for the territory include Justin Bendik (Territory Manager) at jbendik@nealsystems.com or 412-852-7538, as well as our main office at sales@nealsystems.com or 215-968-7577.

Neal Systems Inc is much more than a product provider — we are a comprehensive solutions and service partner for plant and process automation. As a representative company, we offer access to over 20 trusted product lines, combined with services that include equipment and plant maintenance, engineering expertise, custom UL508 panel building, and more. By bridging the gap between top-tier manufacturers and the industries we serve, NSI delivers tailored solutions that maximize performance, efficiency, and reliability. NSI's extensive experience and strong regional presence make them an excellent partner for supporting our customers throughout the territory.

By combining Schneider Electric's industry-leading measurement and instrumentation solutions with Neal Systems Inc's local resources and technical expertise, we are strengthening our commitment to providing exceptional service, responsive support, and value to our customers.

Schneider Electric sincerely appreciates your continued business and partnership. We remain committed to delivering the high level of service, technical support, and product expertise you expect, and we look forward to serving you through this exciting partnership with Neal Systems Inc.

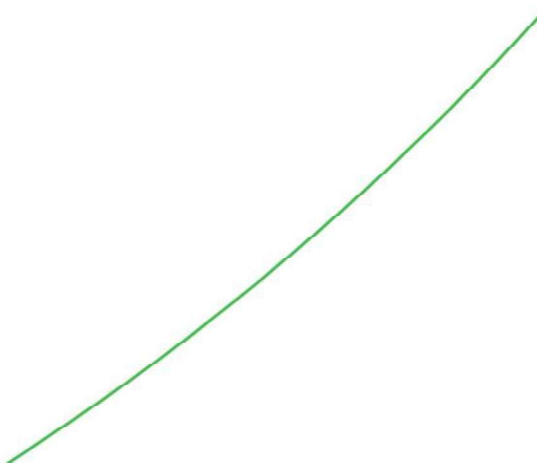

If you have any questions regarding this communication or how it may affect your business, please contact your Schneider Electric representative or the Neal Systems Inc team.
